“Some of the Krum Rifle Club members were here Friday to try out the Denton Club’s range,” said P.L. Cardwell. “They seemed to like the lay out very much after firing a few rounds and they issued a challenge to the club here which will be accepted. The match will not take place until Krum gets her outdoor range in condition and has time to practice for awhile. When it is “pulled off,” however we will arrange to give prizes for both team-shooting and individual marksmanship.”

Using his second string most of the game, coach Johnson and his Krum High School cagers won over Union Hill, Class C. champions, 20 to 18 at Pilot Point Tuesday evening.

Krum now will meet the Denton High Broncos for the county championship and the right to enter the district meet here next week. The game likely will be played Saturday night.

In the game Tuesday night Krum held a 10 to 1 lead at the end of the first period. Johnson then sent in his reserves and Union Hill scored 12 points during the second quarter while Krum did not scratch. At the end of the third quarter Union Hill still led and Johnson then sent in his first line.

Just before the end of the game Krum held a two-point lead and Union Hill had a pair of free throws. The Class C champs did not make good on their opportunity to tie the count however.
